RUN UP YOUR FLAG!

BY AN OLD LINE DEMOCRAT.

Run up your flag! unfurl to the breeze
The standard of freemen, the hope of the crushed;
Let it shadow our homes, let it float o'er the seas,
Till the cries of despair from the trampled are hushed.
Democracy speaks, and her beacons are glowing;
Her strong men are gath'ring to arm for the fight;
Down from our mountains, in torrents they're flowing,
Prepared to do battle for freedom and right.

Already the squadrons engage in the strife!
Their swords are all drawn, and their spears in the rest—
They charge in the onset, for UNION, for LIFE!
And their war-cry resounds from the East to the West.
Now, see! in the van, the bright battle-axe shine!—
Connecticut speaks, from her home in the North—
And "Sweet Little Rhoda" wheels into line;
And the great, and the brave, to the battle go forth.

A cloud, in the North, lets its ebon folds down;
And lowers in wrath o'er our native old state;
But the "Keystone" ne'er shrinks when danger doth frown—
She is true to her arch, as the handmaid of Fate.
She's armed for the fight—her leader the best
That e'er rolled Democracy's hosts on the foe—
Far, far in their van rides "The Star of the West;"
And in triumph his beams in October shall glow.

Then, rise in the valley! and rise on the hill!
Let your trumpets be heard 'bove the roar of the storm,
Come forth from the furnace, the fact'ry and mill;
And lift in the pure air, Freedom, thy form!
Run up your flag! and unfurl to the breeze,
Democracy's standard, the stripes and the stars;
Let it shadow your homes, let it float o'er the seas!
And ever with honor return from the wars.

Select Tale.

A NIGHT IN NEW ORLEANS.

Printers tell many queer, quaint, quizzical, and sometimes startling stories; and while they do a great deal in that way for the mere fun of the thing, it is not to be supposed that they are always joking—always jibbing it, merely for the sake of raising a laugh or creating wonder. In their numerous flittings they mingle with many strange people, see many strange sights, and often encounter perils, which to many, would appear incredible.

We will relate a little story which we heard from the lips of a poor young fellow now dead and gone.

In the year 18— we were assisting in the editorial department of a daily paper which was published in one of the small cities of New York. One night—or rather morning,) for editors, reporters, and printers are compelled to keep all sorts of hours (after the forms were locked up, and everything was ready for a final adjournment to our respective boarding houses, a proposition was made to visit a restaurant near by, for the double purpose of having a smoke and refreshing the inner man with a little something good and pleasant to the palate.—Accordingly we repaired to the eating saloon and while discussing the good things before us, we entertained each other by relating our adventures by sea and land.

"Did I ever tell you of that adventure I had in New Orleans?" said Charley Rodman, a gay, dashing, good looking, and really gifted young man.

"Guess not," was the general response.

"Well, will you hear it now?"

"Certainly," fell from half-a-dozen lips.

"Well, then, I was working on a morning paper in New Orleans, during the winter of 18— and as I was going from the office to my boarding house, about twelve o'clock one night, I was suddenly startled by the abrupt and unexpected appearance of a female, who rushed before me and threw herself down in my path. I was just in the light of a street lamp at the time, and as she turned her face up to mine, I noticed that she was both young and beautiful.

"Save me, sir! save me!" she cried, clasping my legs frantically.

"Save you from what?" I demanded, as I raised her to her feet. "I do not see anything."

"Oh! sir, a brutal-looking man was pursuing me, threatning my life and honor!" was the trembling, agitated reply. "My mother taken sick, and I was forced to go out for medicine, and that's the way I came in the streets at so late an hour. It couldn't be helped, sir, though I never was out so late before without company."

"Where do you live?" I enquired, fairly fascinated by the girl's beautiful face, and soft voice

"Not far from here sir—only round the next street," said the girl; but I am so afraid I shall meet that man again. O, sir, if you will only see me safely home, I shall be deeply indebted to you."

"Certainly, I will," was the response; "but still there don't appear to be anybody in pursuit of you now."

At that moment I heard the clatter of feet down the street, and turning my face in that direction, I saw a man approaching the spot where we were standing, at a rapid run.

The girl looked in the same direction at the same time I did.

"There he comes now," she exclaimed, in a deep, fearful whisper, at the same time tightly clutching me by the arm.

Suddenly turning away from me, the girl darted up the street.

"Stop, young lady!" I cried. "I will protect you—you need not fear."

That was rather a loud promise, under the circumstances, but I did not stop to consider what I said.

The girl did not heed me but dashed on and, involuntarily I followed in her steps. After running a couple of blocks, she stopped and looked back at me. In a few moments I reached her side, and by that time the man was not far behind me.

"You had better come into the house, sir," she said nervously; "for I am sure that man is very evil designing, and may do you some harm."

As she spoke she mounted the steps of a very ancient looking dwelling, and violently rang the bell. I followed her not exactly from prudential motives, but because I wanted to see more of her, and because I was fond of a ventur of any kind.

Almost instantly the door was opened, when I followed the young girl inside. An old, hideous looking negro woman stood in the hall just beyond the door, holding a lamp in her hand.

"Why what's de matter, Caroline?" demanded the hag.

"Shut the door quick! I've been waylaid by a ruffian!" responded she excitedly. "This way sir!" she added, addressing me, at the same time opening the parlor door, and pointing into the room.

I bowed and passed in; and at the same time I heard the front door closed and locked.

"Excuse me for a moment, sir, while I speak to my mother," pursued the young girl. The next moment, and before I had time to reply, the door closed, and I was left alone.

I walked to a sofa—a light was burning in the room—and sat down. Then I took a survey of the apartment. The furniture had been good in its day, but was then much worn and battered.

A few minutes afterwards the satanic-looking negress opened the parlor door, and poked her hideous face into the room.

"Miss Carline 'quests the gentleman to walk up stairs."

I began to think the proceeding rather strange but still my reckless spirit induced me to follow the negress.

Up two flight of stairs, and to the door of a back apartment she led me. She knocked and the door opened.

"Walk in sar, if you please," she said very deferentially.

I stepped into an apartment that had no windows in it, and was confronted by a huge, burly negro man. At the same moment I heard the door closed and locked, and for the first time began to think seriously of danger.

"Fork ober, sar!" exclaimed the negro, abruptly and threatingly.

I carried quite a valuable watch, and had a considerable amount of money about me, for that night I had been paid off at the office, and a really clever sum was standing to my account. I knew I had been drawn into a den of thieves, but I internally resolved not to lose my property without making an effort to save it, let the consequences be what they might.

"Do you mean to rob me?" I demanded resolutely.

"Spect I do!" was the unmistakable reply.

"I warn you," said I, my blood boiling up, "that I shall not patiently submit to any such outrage."

"Don't 'spect you will sar," responded the negro as he displayed a murderous looking knife; "but we never do anything by halves. We neober lets any one that comes here go away again—cause they might tell tales."

"Would you murder me, you black thief!" I cried passionately.

"Dat's de game," rejoined the cut-throat, with a broad grin. "Used to dat sort of bis'ness and don't mind it a bit."

I was now fully alive to the fact that I was in a very dangerous situation, and to tell the truth I felt dreadful nervous about it. What to do I knew not. That the girl I had encountered was probably a quadroon, and certainly a decoy, and that I had been led to the house to be plundered and perhaps murdered, I had every reason to believe.

"Come, sar, fork ober, an' den jump down dar!"

The rascal must have touched a spring somewhere, for as he spoke, a trap door flew open in the centre of the floor.

I looked at the trap and then at the negro, in doubt as to whether I had heard aright.

"If yer jump down, sar, yer'll sabe me de trouble of frowin' yer down!" he added fiendishly.

"You bloody rascal!" I cried madly, "do you think I'll deprive myself of life just to gratify you?"

"You won't do nuffin, hey!" cried the negro springing at me like a wild beast; "den take dat!"

The villain made a slashing cut at me, but with a single bound I sprang clear to to other side of the trap and escaped the deadly blow.

Boiling over with diabolical rage, the cursed cut-throat again sprang at me, bounding across the pit with a spring of madness. As his feet touched the edge upon which I was standing, I involuntarily put out my hands toward him, and shoved him back. I hardly intended to throw him down the pit, but down he went, in a moment disappearing out of sight.

I did not stop to learn the villain's fate, for I judged that I should have more such work on my hands before I got out of the house, if indeed I ever succeeded in making my escape from that den of infamy.

Instantly after the fall of the negro, I ran around the pit, and sprang towards the door. Just as I reached the door however, and was taking hold of the nob, some one turned it on the other side. I sprang up against the wall, and in a way that would keep me out of sight of any one who might enter. The next moment the door opened, and a head was thrust into the room. Without waiting to see who it was, and taking it for granted that all in the house were arrayed against me, I doubled my fist, and with all my strength instantly dealt a blow at the head that brought the person at full length to the floor. The same moment showed me that it was the negress.

The hag was entirely insensible, and I forthwith dragged her into the room, and shut the door. At length my attentive ear caught the sound of light footsteps outside and a moment afterwards the door was again opened. This time it was my beautiful deceiver who appeared. The first thing her eyes seemed to encounter was the prostrate form of the negress, and with an exclamation of astonishment she darted into the room.

Quick as lightning I placed my back against the door. The movement at once attracted the girl's attention to me.

"Now, my lady!" I hissed out—for I was intensely excited—"you and I must have an understanding. You led me into this infernal den by you tricks, and you have got to show me the way out of it, or, by all my hopes, yonder black pit shall be your grave. Anyway I may lose my life; and I am as desperate as a man can be. You see that old hag cannot help you just now," I added, pointing to the still insensible negress; "and the villain who was here, and would have taken my life, lies at the bottom of the pit."

The girl looked bewildered and exclaimed:

"I could not help it sir. Indeed I am forced to do so."

"That matters not to me," I added, incredulously, "can you conduct me out of this house?"

"Yes, sir, I can," was the reply.

"Will you do it?" I demanded inflexibly.

"I will sir," she responded earnestly.

"Then lead on," I added, pointing to the door. "But mark you, if I see a sign of treachery, or notice the least effort to create an alarm I'll tear you, limb from limb!"

I was strong and wild, and meant what I said and the girl saw it.

"There is no one else in the house, sir, I assure you," she responded.

"Lead the way," I said, hardly crediting her words.

She turned from the room, when I locked the door, put the key in my pocket, and followed close behind her. No lights were visible anywhere, except in the room we had just left; but keeping the girl right before me, and within reach of my hands, I stepped along. In a few moments we reached the front door. The girl stopped a moment, and, I judge, got a key from some hiding place. The next instant, however, she opened the door, and I sprang outside, thanking God for my preservation.

Without a word, even without a look at me, I started away, hardly conscious of the direction I pursued. I found my way to my boarding house, however, and at the earliest hour practicable, laid the whole matter before the authorities. Finally I led a party of police to the house. Not being able to obtain admittance, in the usual manner, the doors were forced. Everything in the house remained undisturbed, but not a soul was to be found high, or low. The trap, however, was soon discovered, and it was found, upon examination, that there was a succession of traps which conducted to a deep mucky pit in the cellar. The house had evidently been the haunt of robbers for a long time.

At the bottom of the pit we found the mangled and mutilated remains of the negro, and a heap of fleshless bones. I shudder to think what might have been my fate, and congratulated myself on my fortunate escape. I had evidently been more favored than many others.—That is all gentlemen.

"A very good story, very well told," said J, Adams Allman concluded.

"Yes, sir, whether you believe it or not."

THE GENIUS OF NAPOLEON IN A SERGEANT—How a Company was Saved.—We have been informed of a most remarkable instance of ingenuity and presence of mind in a sergeant of the army, which occurred a few days ago, by which he saved his own life and that of his party. A sergeant, with about twenty-five soldiers, had been sent out some miles from Fort Defiance, New Mexico, to guard some stock which were to be sent to graze, when, unexectedly they found that the party was surorunded by about four hundred hostile Navajo Indians. The brave and skilful sergeant took position on an eminence, and, by a volley from the long-shooting rifles of his party, at first drove off the [illegible] preparing to storm the little party. The sergeant, in taxing his brain for an expedient by which to convey intelligence of the desperate peril in which his party was placed, took a single dog which had accompanied the party, fastening to his collar a note written with a pencil informing the commander at the fort of his situation, took a tin cup in which he put some pebbles, which were confined with a piece of cloth over the top, fastened it with a string to the dog's tail, and started the dog loose, knowing that he would, in his affright, run to the fort. He dashed with his greatest speed to Fort Defiance; the note was discovered and read. Straightway a party was sent to the rescue, and arrived just in time to save the lives of the whole party. This sergeant justly merits a commission, which we hope will be awarded him by the President.—Kentucky Flag.

[From the Boston Post.]

THE SANBORN REBELLION.

The Concord fanatics have threatened to tar and feather democratic residents. On one occasion they have already surrounded the houses of two of them, frightening the female inmates with their hootings, groans, tin horns, pans, &c. On Saturday night last, the barn of the post master, Mr. Davis, was burned to the ground. Such fellows as commit these John Brown outrages may reasonably be expected to go armed into our State courts. If any further proof is wanting, the following from the same Traveller Acton Company, under "Review," is to the point. The two British officers on the occasion, Captain Davis, killed and that paper recommends that Col. Mc[illegible] to the United States Senate Sergeant-at-Arms, be received in the same manner:

"It is asserted that the best arrangements have been made at Concord to give Mr. McNair and his flunkies a proper reception, modelled on those which were made for the reception of Messrs Smith, Pitcairn, & Co., in 1779. As the anniversary of the first little affair at Concord will occur five days hence, why don't Mic devote the 19th to the work he has in hand? It would be just in time for our next 'Review,' if he should go to Concord next Thursday, and, opening his mouth and shutting his eyes, see what fortune shall send him. We would do the right thing by him, if he should get hurt—we would, positively. And some future Frothingham would immortalize him in historic amber."

Again, the same "Review" announces that the fanatics are arming their women thus:

"The revolver presented to Miss Sanborn bears this inscription: 'Sic itur ad astra.' We hope she'll make the next lot of ruffians who go a kidnapping at Concord in the night see all the stars in the skies from a ground view. The revolver will then be a guide to those heavenly bodies for creatures who come from Heaven's antipodes."

MANNERS IN THE PIKE'S PEAK COUNTRY.—A correspondent of the St. Louis Republican, writing from Denver city on the 4th inst., details the following affair between a couple of bowie-knife advocates:

Denver was again thrown into excitement last week by the announcement that a man had been killed.

On proceeding to the ground I found the victim to be Jack O'Neil a person long since noted for his crimes, which were still unpunished. It appears that a quarrel had arisen several days previous, which had been renewed on the day before, by very insulting and slanderous language used by O'Neil to Rooker, who committed the deed. In consequence of this challenge passed between them, O'Neil chose bowie-knives as weapons and a dark [illegible] for the place. These Rooker refused; whereupon O'Neil sent word that they would shoot on sight.

With this arrangement of the matter Rooker stationed himself in the door of the Western Saloon, armed with a shot-gun loaded with buckshot. O'Neil had occasion to pass by, and as he did so, when Rooker saw him he cried out with an oath, "I've got you now," and immediately shot him.

O'Neil, who had turned to go away, fell with his revolver cocked in his hand, simply uttering the words, "Rooker has killed me," and expired in 10 minutes.

Rooker fled, but soon after returned, and has since received a sham trial, at which he was acquitted.

It will be remembered that O'Neil fled from Kansas City in the night to escape being lynched by the people for committing a rape in connection with another person. He is reported to have killed several persons in Salt Lake of which deeds he has frequently boasted. He has been quite noted here as a pugilist.

His death was looked upon more in the light of the abatement of a nuisance than of anything else, and consequently but little attention was paid to the matter, and it was passed by without a thorough investigation.

☞Young man, do you believe in a future state?" "In course I does and what's more I intend to enter it as soon as Betsy gets her things ready." "Go to —— young man, you are too incorrigible, go to——." "Go two! If it wasn't for the law against bigamy, whip me if I wouldn't go a dozen. But who supposed, such advice to a man just starting in life."

☞A Sabbath School teacher catechising his class, put the following to a little four year old:

"Sonny, who made you?"

After studying for a few moments, the youngster replied:

"God made part of me, and I growed the rest."

TWO VIEWS OF THE CASE.—Judge C——, United States Senator, from Vermont, related to us a good anecdote, the other day, illustrative of Abolitionism. The morning he was leaving home to enter upon his duties in the city, a straight-[illegible] who looked upon the whole South as a great pandemonium, called upon him and said:

"Now, Judge, I want you to do all in your power to abolish slavery!"

"Well," said the Judge, "how shall I proceed?"

"Oh, I don't know; but you must abolish it, It is a damnable curse, and must be abolished. You know more about law than I do. The church is my stronghold; but you understand National matters, Judge, and can devise some plan, and I know it."

"The only way I see to abolish it," said the Judge, "is to buy all the slaves and set them free."

"Well, that's no go in for that; have a law passed that the Nigs shall buy them, and then this trouble will end." "Yes, go in strong for that, Judge." "Just as you say, I will agree to it in a moment, and my share of the expense. Here is Wood[illegible] dred inhabitants, and this [illegible] on for about six hundred that would be called dollars—and I will urge it before the Senate."

The good deacon opened his mouth, then his eyes followed his tongue to escape, then corner of his face, scratched his head, one ped impatiently on the floor with his foot, tap the Judge was leaving the room the deade power of speech came to him, and he called out:

"Oh, say, Judge, I guess you'd better let slavery alone; the poor black devils are better off South than up here in this cold climate."

There are several just such deacons in this country.

COFFEE AS A MENTAL STIMULANT.—Schiller, during his hours of composition, kept at his side a bottle of champagne or Rhenish wine, or a cup of strong coffee. Horace Walpole wrote usually from 10 to 2 o'clock at night, always having strong coffee by him. Sir William Jones drank a great deal of coffee to support him in his nocturnal studies. Baron de Grimm states that Voltaire, a few days prior to his death, with his characteristic activity and enthusiasm, attended the rehearsal of the Academy, and insisted on the production of a new and important edition of their dictionary. To this project many objections were started, which he resolved to obviate in an elaborate discourse. To strengthen himself for the task; he swallowed a prodigious quantity of strong coffee, and then continued to work for upward of twelve hours without intermission. This independent effort brought on an inflammation of the bladder. For the purpose of relieving the pain he swallowed, with his usual impatience, a large quantity of laudanum. The consequence was that he fell into a lethargy from which he never entirely recovered.

A SHORT CEREMONY.—Old Squire Jack—as he was familiarly called, was for many years a justice of the peace in ——, and in addition to issuing warrants and executions, was frequently called upon to perform the marriage ceremony.

One bitter cold winter night, about 12 o'clock he was aroused from his sleep by a knock at the door. In no very amiable mood he jumped from his warm bed, and throwing up the window, called out:

"Who's there?"

"Halloa, Squire," was the reply, "we want to get married."

"You're one! and now be off with you!" roared the Squire; and bringing down the window with a crash, he hopped into bed again.

"They are living man and wife to this day," the Squire always added, when he told the story.

THE MOST GUARDED OF ANSWERS.—In one of our courts lately, a man who was called on to appear as a witness could not be found. On the Judge asking where he was, a grave elderly gentleman rose up and with much emphasis said:

"Your honor, he's gone."

"Gone! gone!" said the Judge, "where is he gone?"

"That I cannot inform you," replied the communicative old gentleman; "but he is dead."

This is considered the most guarded answer on record.

☞Three or four times, a couple appeared before a clergyman for marriage; but the bridegroom was drunk, and the Rev. gentleman refused to tie the knot. On the last occasion he expressed his surprise that so respectable a looking girl was not ashamed to appear at the altar with a man in such a state. The poor girl burst into tears, and said she could not help it.

"And why, pray?"

"Because, sir, he won't come when he's sober.

☞As we were walking along the street the other day, we noticed a crowd of urchins around a boy who was sucking a piece of candy. "I say, Bill," said one of them, "give me that candy, and I'll make it come out of my [illegible] like Blitz did last night at the theatre."

Second [illegible] the candy.

First youth very deliberately eats the candy, (second youth watching the little fellow's ears,) and after drawing himself into every conceivable shape, he said, "If I haint forgot the rest you may have my shirt for a dish-rag!"

☞It is stated that 20,000 Swedes and Norwegians are preparing to embark in the coming summer for the United States.

BEDFORD GAZETTE.

Bedford, May 4, 1860.

FOR GOVERNOR:

HENRY D. FOSTER,

OF WESTMORELAND COUNTY.

"The principle of the tariff of 1842, as far as related to the manufacture of IRON, of any description, or of every description, was NOT TOO HIGH."— HENRY D. FOSTER.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, will be administered in the Presbyterian Church, of this place, on Sabbath, the 13th of May. The pastor expects the assistance of Rev. Mr. Symmes, of Cumberland. Preparatory service will be held on Friday evening, and on Saturday, at 10 1-2 o'clock, A. M.

The Charleston Convention.

We had hoped to be able to present our readers, this week, with a full report of the proceedings of the Democratic National Convention at Charleston, but are disappointed. We have the following authentic news:

The Cincinnatti Platform and Dred Scott decision have been re-affirmed, The Convention has adopted a resolution requiring 202 votes, or two thirds of the Convention as originally constituted, to make a nomination. Twelve ballots were had on Wednesday evening last, Douglas having 150 of the 249 votes cast. The following despatches we find in Forney's Press:

"Should DOUGLAS be nominated upon the platform of his friends, he will not only sweep the North, but he will capture the strongholds of the secessionists in the South.

"The secession is not regarded as at all serious. Only the extreme have bolted, and the conservative men of the South are glad they have gone, as they say they injure the party even in the South."

☞A small and spiritless gathering of the Opposition factions of this county, assembled in the Court House, on Tuesday evening last. The meeting was composed, principally, of Opposition candidates for Assembly, Prothonotary and Sheriff, and of such Democrats as were curious to see what would transpire. The inevitable Jordan addressed the assembled multitude. His strongest argument in favor of CURTIN, was, that he (Curtin) "stood 6 feet, 2 inches, in his stockings, and every inch a man." A friend who heard him make this remark, figures up the number of men contained in Mr. Curtin's corporation, according to Mr. Jordan, to be just 74, which he thinks must mean political men, for Mr. Curtin, doubtless, represents about that number of political opinions in regard to a single subject. Can't some body else take pity on the Opposition, and give them something new, instead of Jordan's stereotyped platitudes?

☞From telegraphic reports received here, it is supposed that Alexander Henry, Opposition, is re-elected Mayor of Philadelphia, by about 700 majority. This is a heavy Democratic gain, since last Fall, when the Opposition majority in that city, was nearly 3000! The election of Mr. Henry is nothing more than we anticipated, inasmuch as his friends and partizans resorted to every species of fraud to secure his success. We do not doubt, that if the legitimate voters of Philadelphia, alone, had made choice between the candidates, Henry would have been defeated. As it is, we are well satisfied, for the large gain of 2200, since last Fall, shows that the city will certainly be Democratic at the coming election.

We were agreeably surprised a few days ago, on seeing a proof sheet of a map of Somerset co., which is gotten up in very fine style by Mr. E. L. Walker, of that county. The same gentleman is at present engaged upon a map of our county, and we feel confident that the work, when completed, will be satisfactory to all concerned. Mr. Walker deserves to be encouraged in his enterprise, and we have no doubt, will be amply sustained.

☞W. A. OGLE, ESQ., of the Somerset Herald and Whig, paid our town a visit a few days ago. Considering his politics, Ogle is a good fellow and deserves to "get along."

☞PROF. ROLLIN, the great Magician, will give another of his laughable and entertaining performances, in the Court room, to-night. Go and see him.

☞Court adjourned on Wednesday morning last. Owing to the continuance of the civil list, there was but little business to be transacted.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2d, 1860.—The Municipal contest, yesterday, resulted in the re-election of Mayor Henry and the entire People's ticket.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2d, 5 p. m.

To Messrs Schell and Meyers:

Great doubt as to Charleston; a new man probably; Henry's majority only about 700. We are in good spirits. We have gained 5000 votes. Two years ago, Henry's majority over Vaux was four thousand seven hundred. We have now thirty five thousand votes—Seventy thousand on both sides.

R. VAUX.

THE PEOPLE IN COUNCIL!

GRAND MASS MEETING OF THE DEMOCRACY!

The Nomination of Henry D. Foster, Ratified.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM.

In pursuance of previous notice, the Democratic citizens of Bedford county, assembled in Mass Meeting, at the Court House, on Monday evening last. At the ringing of the bell a vast crowd poured into the Court room and soon every seat was filled, the passages crowded and the space inside of the bar blocked up with people. The meeting was then organized by the appointment of the following officers:

President,

DR. SAMUEL H. SMITH.

Vice Presidents.

John Statler, Esq.,
John G. Hartley,
Capt. John Long,
Maj. Moses McIlvain,
Jacob Bossler,
Archibald Blair, Esq.,
William Cessna,
Peter F. Lehman, Esq.,
William Adams, Esq.,
Josiah Baughman.

Secretaries.

D. A. T. Black,
George Reimund,
Simon Hamaker.
Henry Gates,

On motion, a committee of seven was then appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting. The committee consisted of the following persons: O. H. Gaither, Esq., Chairman, Jacob Semler, Caselton Ake, Daniel Fletcher, James Burns, John W. Crisman, John C. Vickroy.

The meeting being thus organized, R. I. JOHNSTON, Esq., of Ebensburg, was introduced, and took the stand amid great applause. He then proceeded to deliver a speech of great beauty and power, showing forth the mongrel Opposition in their true colors, and illustrating their fanatical schemes and, erratic doctrines, with a number of well-told and appropriate anecdotes, which invariably elicied the wildest and most rapturous applause from his hearers. Mr. J. said that he was formerly a Whig, but that in 1854, he felt the Whig platform was slipping from under his feet, and that when he found the great lights of the Whig party either extinguished in death, or acting with the Democratic party, he felt that that once powerful organization existed no more, and that he would be compelled to attach himself to some other party. Where was he to go? Not to the ranks of Northern fanaticism! Not to the bloody arms of proscriptive and intolerant Know Nothingism! But one alternative was given him. The Democratic party—the only national party—the only party which advocates the freedom of the white race in its true sense was his only place of refuge. At the close of Mr. Johnston's speech, three cheers were proposed for the speaker, and were given with a will.

The next speaker was Dr. J. E. McGIRR, of Bedford tp., who made a speech abounding in eloquence and burning with fervor and earnestness. The effect of Dr. McGIRR'S speech was very favorable, and his eulogy of HENRY D. FOSTER, whom he has known long and well, will have great weight in this community. Dr. McGirr, though a quiet and unobtrusive citizen, is an able and eloquent speaker, a polished scholar, and what is better than all, a pure and upright man. The endorsement of such a man is worth all the fulsome adulation of parasites and flatterers, all the applause of interested and venal partizans. We expect to hear from the Dr. frequently during the coming campaign.

JOHN PALMER, Esq., was next called upon, and addressed the meeting in a short, but eloquent and pithy speech. Mr. Palmer has the elements of the orator, and with a little practice, will make an accomplished speaker. Mr. P. belongs to the young Democracy, to whom we look for all the vigorous and energetic assistance that youth can give, in the coming contest.

The meeting was then addressed by Hon. W. P. SCHELL, who acquitted himself in his usual able and effective manner. Mr. Schell always strikes home, when he speaks, and his arguments are always logical and convincing.

Major TATE was then loudly called for, but owing to the lateness of the hour, declined speaking, and on his motion the meeting adjourned with three cheers for the Democratic party.

The Resolutions reported by the Committee appointed for that purpose, and read to the meeting by the chairman, O. H. Gaither, Esq., were unanimously adopted, and are as follows:

Resolved, That we, as heretofore, sincerely and truly believe in the honesty and integrity of that great political party, the democratic party, under whose guidance our government has continued increasing until she is second to no other power upon earth.

Resolved, That we heartily despise and condemn the doctrine of that one-idea party, the Republican party, that an "irrepressible conflict" now exists, and must exist in our common country, as being a doctrine only worthy to be advocated by traitors.

Resolved, That we still look upon the Territories as being the common property of the citizens of all the states, be they northern or southern, eastern or western, purchased as they were by the blood and and treasure of our common country, and to be used alike by all.

Resolved, That we are firmly convinced "that the Harper's Ferry crime was the natural, logical, inevitable, result of the doctrines and teachings of the Republican party, as explained and enforced in their platform, their partisan presses, their pamphlets and books, and especially in the speeches of their leaders in and out of Congress.

Resolved, That we still have, as the democratic party of Bedford County has ever had an unwavering faith in the purity, justice and patriotism of President BUCHANAN, that he has endeared himself to the hearts of many by the firm and manly protest he entered against the assumed authority of the "Republicans" of the present Congress, by means of which authority they attempted to make one of their number his accuser, his judge and one of the jurors—and that "we look upon the success which has crowned his labors as the best and proudest vindication of the propriety and wisdom of his administration."

Resolved, That we concur with our President in regard to specific duties, and an increase of our present tariff, by means of which the revenue necessary for the wants of our government, could be more readily raised, and that we, as Pennsylvanians, believe our condition as a state, would be greatly improved by increased duties upon coal and iron such as advocated by H. D. Foster our candidate for Governor.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the state policy of our present Governor, as expressed in his last message, as being a proper and just policy and believe him to have been ever watchful of the interests of our state.

Resolved, That we thank our representatives assembled at Reading, for the manner the late Democratic convention was conducted, and for presenting as our standard bearer in the coming struggle, the gallant "Harry of the West," and that we will do all in our power to make his election as certain as the coming of the 10th of October next.

Resolved, That we look with pleasure upon the course pursued by our worthy Senator, Hon. Wm. P. Schell, during the time he has been representing us, and thank him for his attention to, and his ever having an eye upon the wants and interests of Bedford county.

COMMUNICATIONS.

FOR THE BEDFORD GAZETTE.

Our County papers have lately been, like the United Webster once said of the exhibition of champi- States, "an applicants for the office of County Superintendent, or some of them, have endeavored to elevate themselves in the estimation of the citizens and School Directors of Bedford county, by displaying their abilities, as they no doubt suppose, to wield the superintendency of the Common Schools to the best advantage; more, we believe, for the purpose of securing the election, than for the real interest of Education. Had all that has lately been said and written upon the subject of Teaching, Training, &c., been said and written at the opening of the schools last fall, it would have entitled the contributors to more Educational merit. It is not my purpose, in this article, to make a display of my limited stock of knowledge on the "Science of Education, and the Art of Teaching," but to recommend a work on that subject which should be in the possession of every Family and Teacher. The author of the work mentioned is JOHN OGDEN, A. M. Hear him in a portion of his article on discipline:

"There is, therefore, this difference between acquisition and discipline, between education and instruction. Acquisition and instruction collect the materials, discipline and education dispose of them in their proper places. The first feed the faculties of the mind, the second exercise them; the first develop knowledge, the second power; acquisition is learning, discipline is wisdom; instruction affords nourishment, education begets strength. Knowledge is the accumulation of facts and principles, wisdom is the ability to use them. An instructed man is a man of knowledge, an educated man is a man of wisdom. Instruction is a condition of education; knowledge, of wisdom; acquisition, of discipline. Instruction and acquisition afford the opportunities of improvement; education and discipline make use of these opportunities for the accomplishment of the duties of life; so that they are all as essentially necessary to perfect development of mind as food and exercise are to the growth and perfect development of the body."

The work, from which the above quotation has been taken, contains over four hundred pages, and yet every page is as replete with excellence as the part above quoted. It may be said, however, that there are many parents who cannot read, and therefore, it would be of no advantage to them to have any work on the subject of education. Where this is the case, I recommend the following as a remedy: In every sub-district there are at least a few young gentlemen and young ladies, who are pretty good readers, and who, if invited to do so, would come into families where the parents, (or either of them) cannot read, and spend an hour or two, in reading, at least one or two evenings during the week, and the consequence would be a four-fold advantage. First: Parents would be instructed. Secondly: Good readers would be improved. Thirdly: The mind of the reader would be enriched, and fourthly: The time thus employed, would, otherwise, perhaps, be spent in idleness, or vagrancy.

FOR THE BEDFORD GAZETTE.

Shipments of coal over the Huntingdon and Broad Top Rail Road for the week ending Thursday, April 26, 1860:

	Week.	Year.
	4476.00	52,388.00
Shipments for '59	2033.00	36,412.00
Increase,	2443.00	15.976.00

From the above statement it will be seen that the Shipments thus far, this season, are increasing in a much larger ratio than any season heretofore. They indicate an increase this season of over 50,000 tons against 25,000 last year.

A series of experiments have been concluded by W. J. Palmer, Esq., with six coal burning engines, on the Penn'a Rail Road, to test and report the following matters. The proximation wood, which plan of coal-burner is best, relative heating value and cost of Broad Top and Pittsburg coals.

The relative cost and heating value of the two coals, are enumerated in the following general summary of results:—

"1st. That as regards the cash per ton delivered on the tender, Pittsburg coal is cheaper than Broad Top for Passenger trains between Pittsburgh and Harrisburg, (248 miles,) and for freight trains between Pittsburgh and Altoona, (116 miles)."

"2nd. That Broad Top coal is cheaper than "Pittsburgh" for Passenger trains between Harrisburg and Philadelphia, (106 miles,) and for freight trains between Altoona and Philadelphia, (242 miles) The difference in favor of Broad Top being 19 cents per ton."

The general results of trial of heating value may be summed up as follows:

	Pounds consumed per mile.
Pittsburg coal,	39 43
Broad Top Coal,	39 19
Diff'ce in favor of B. T. coal,	3-5 of 1 per ct.
	Lbs. water evaporated per lb of coal.
Pittsburg coal,	8 21
Broad Top coal	8 29
Diff'ce in favor of B. T. coal,	97-100 of 1 per ct.

The general practical conclusion arrived at, was, that for use in locomotive engines, equal weights of Pittsburg and Broad Top coals are practically equal in heating value."

With the line of the Pittsburgh Extension completed, and in successful operation from Huntingdon to Saxton and Hopewell, the business of the Huntingdon and Broad Top Rail Road is carried on with the utmost regularity and despatch.

B. F. MEYERS, ESQ.:

DEAR SIR:—By reference to several of the late issues of the Gazette I see that my name has been suggested in connection with the office of Sheriff. To those Democratic friends who have caused the publication of that announcement, who have desired to bring my name before the Convention, I am very thankful. But I am no candidate, and write to request you to discontinue the notice. There are good men, I see, named for all the offices, and as a Democrat, I go for the nominee of the Convention, be they who they may.—With kind regards,

Respectfully yours,
JOHN ALSTADT.

THE GREAT PRIZE FIGHT.

The long-talked of fight for the championship, between John C. Heenan and Thomas Sayers, came off near Farnborough, England, on the 17th ult. The following is one of several accounts of the fight, that have fallen under our notice:

Heenan and Sayers on entering the ring shook hands most cordially, and at twenty minutes past seven o'clock they commenced.

THE ROUNDS.

First Tom fell.

Second—Heenan threw Sayers, falling heavily on him.

Third—Tom knocked completely off his pins.

Fourth—Tom struck on the jaw and down he went.

Fifth—Tom fell.

Sixth—Tom again fell.

Seventh—This round lasted thirteen minutes, and was a fine specimen of stratagem and skill, especially on Tom's part. Tom, however, rolled over laughing. His right arm was much swollen.

Eighth—Tom was again knocked off his pins. This round lasted twenty minutes.—Tom's arm was the chief drawback. Heenan's right eye was closed up, the cheek fearfully swollen and the mouth out of the perpendicular.

Ninth—Tom dropped.

Tenth—Tom slow to the call. Heenan lifted Tom from the ground and threw him heavily with the greatest ease.

Eleventh—Tom fell.

Twelfth—Heenan caught him on the jaw.

Thirteenth—Tom knocked clear off his legs.

Fourteenth—Both down; Heenan fell under.

Fifteenth—The champion down again in a heap.

Sixteenth—Tom down again.

Seventeenth—Tom again down.

Eighteenth and Nineteenth—Tom fell.

Twentieth—Both down on the ropes.

Twenty-first and Twenty-second—Champion down.

Twenty-third—Both down; Tom under.

Twenty-fourth—Tom down again.

Twenty-fifth—Heenan perfectly wild, rushed in and bore Tom down.

Twenty-sixth—Tom went down; Heenan hitting him when down. The blow was obviously accidental.

Twenty-seventh—The Boy bore Tom down on the ropes.

Twenty-eighth—In this, at the end, Tom went down.

Twenty-ninth—Tom slipped down.

Thirtieth—Heenan's other eye closing fast. The Boy rushed at Tom and fell on him.

Thirty-first—The Champion down again.

Thirty-second—The hitting was now even. Tom was floored by a right-hander. Heenan fast going blind.

Thirty-third—The Boy feeling that he had no time to loose, rushed in. Tom slipped through to the Boy's arms.

Thirty-fourth—Both fell; Tom under.

Thirty-fifth—Sharp exchanges at close quarters, ending in the downfall of Tom.

Two hours had now elapsed.

Thirty-seventh and last—Tom was first up and seemed to be the better man. Heenan caught Tom around the neck at the ropes and there held him. Tom's efforts to extricate himself were in vain, but he administered severe puishment to the Boy's face. At this, there was a rush to the ropes from all sides and the referee was shut out. At the expiration of two hours and six minutes both men went to grass.

Although the referees sent orders for a cessation of the fight, five more so-called rounds were fought with equal advantage. The ring was half full of people. The final round was merely a scramble. After they were ordered to desist, Heenan rushed away from the ring with the activity of a deer, but had to pull up in consequence of being totally blind.

The battle is therefore a draw.

SOUTHAMPTON, April 18.

It is rumored, to-day, that the fight between Heenan and Sayers is to be resumed, but there is nothing authentic.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—The affidavit of the world. Ulcerated legs, old sores, &c. Ulcers on the legs which baffled the skill of [illegible] yielded to a short course of these matchless remedies. If this reason is natural, for [illegible] ineffectual—sores and ulcers are [illegible] an effect—to cure them radically, we must seek the cause elsewhere—Holloway maintains it is in the blood, and the success of his treatment in this class of diseases, in all parts of the world, corroborate his system and assertions: the ointment applied to the external surface imbues the old sores and ulcers with new life, while the pills by purifying the blood, extinguish their elements and expel them from it.

MARRIED.

On Tuesday morning, the 1st inst., at the house of the bride's father, in Bedford tp., by the Rev. Sam'l. Yingling, Mr. Simon L. Shafer, to Miss Maggie C. Semler.

The above notice was made interesting to the printer by the pleasant accompaniment of a gold dollar and a large and delicious cake. The happy couple have our thanks for their kind attentions and our best wishes for their happiness and prosperity. Long may they live to enjoy the new life they have begun, nor may ever a cloud of sorrow, or a shadow of regret, fall upon the bliss of their wedded hearts.

On the same day, by the same, Mr. Jacob Gardner, to Miss Catherine Davis, both of Snake Spring, tp., Bedford co.

On the 18th of March, 1860, at the house of the bride's Father, by the Rev. Joseph [illegible] to Miss Elizabeth Barr, both of Napier township, this Co.

On the 25th of March, 1860 by the same, at the Pastor's residence, Mr. George Beneigh, to Miss Margaret Slack, both of Schellsburg.

DIED.

On the 16th ult., Daniel, infant son of Mathias and Barbara Otto, aged, 8 months and 13 days.

JOSIAH D. SHUCK, after a lingering and almost painless illness, departed this life, April 9th, 1860, aged 43 years and 10 months.

In the death of Mr. Shuck, Bedford sustains the loss of one of her most valued citizens.—As a man of business aptitude and thrift, he had few, if any superiors. He was outspoken, candid, ready, honest, prompt. As a counsellor in public enterprise, he was looked up to and his opinions sought. He was a friend to the poor. While he lived, and now especially since he is gone, their tongues are eloquent with his praise. He was their counsellor, devising schemes or business plans for them by which to help them on their feet—and, where it would be appreciated or discreet to do so, was ready to afford the necessary aid to help them start. Others have been fed and clothed by his benefactions.

He became a disciple of the Saviour by conversion when between 15 and 16 years of age, and for some two years followed him openly and worthily in connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church. At length, however, becoming offended at what he regarded as an inconsistency in a few of the members of the Church, he improperly withdrew from it, and, like Peter, fell in the back ground, and followed, if at all, in the far off distance. Like Peter he publicly denied that he was a disciple, but, like him, he retained a secred lingering regard for his Lord, and never ceased, as he afterward professed, secretly and daily to pray. Thus, instead of keeping his lighted candle in the candlestick, he put it under a bushel, where, being smothered, it necessarily went out. Prayer was continued to be sure—but, there was no answering assistance. A species of confidence in his God was presumed, but only presumed, for, that there could have been no Divine approval, is most scripturally manifest to all who understand the genius of the Divine Administration. "If I regard iniquity in my heart," says the Psalmist, "the Lord will not hear me." But was not his neglect publicly to acknowledge and serve his Saviour, an iniquity? See, it is a command of the Saviour to confess him before men—and to obey the Saviour is manifestly to do good—now it is said again, "To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not to him it is sin." This his neglect "therefore" was his spiritually fatal iniquity. This prevented the hearing of his prayers. This, too, but for a timely repentance and reformation, would have prevented his being confessed before the Father and his Holy Angels." This alas! was the mistake of Mr. Shuck's life—Had he stood up for Jesus" as he should have done, how many souls might he have been instrumental in saving from death, and what a multitude of sins, might thus have been covered—and what an increased gracious reward, too, he might have had eternally to enjoy in heaven. Of all this he was most fully convinced before his death, and O, how bitterly did he repent it. But though repentance came genuinely and thoroughly, as we think, yet the moments—the years—that had been lost were lost forever. Had it been in his power, how gladly would he have recalled his life in this respect, and how differently would he have appreciated it. But alas! time once past never returns.

He saw his duty and some six months before his death publicly reunited with the church.—This duty done, he sincerely sought, by prayer forgiveness for the past. In mercy his suit was heard and he obtained witness that he was accepted.

He now again rejoiced in a sense of the Divine favor—and from this time forth exhorted all who came in his way, "that with purpose of heart they should turn unto the Lord." From this time till his death not a cloud obscured his spiritual horizon. He was constantly trustful, happy and resigned. The vigilance and honesty that had hitherto marked all his business habitudes seemed now applied to self examination and safety, as well as to the advancement of the cause of the Redeemer.

Had it been the pleasure of the Master, he said he would have loved to remain awhile longer in this, as he regarded it, "beautiful world," especially that he might have the care and rearing of his young family. Still if the Divine Wisdom saw it best to remove him, he was resigned, and could entrust both his companion and little ones to Him who has said "I will be a Father to the Fatherless and the widow's God." While impressing his farewell kiss upon the fair countenances of his little daughters, he observed his wife to weep, when addressing himself to her he said, with both tenderness and assurance "weep not for me all is well." His confidence continued unshaken and his mind serene and national to the last. Then

"As fades a summer's cloud away,
As sinks the gale when storms are o'er,
As gently shuts the eye of day,
As dies a wave along the shore",

so gently did he resign his spirit into the arms of his Redeemer.

"Forever with the Lord
Amen, so let it be,
Life from the dead is in that word,
'Tis immortality."

S. B.

On Sunday the 22d ult., John M., eldest son of Mr. John J. Luther of this Borough, in his 19th year.

It seems sad to see the young and strong cut down by the hand of "the reaper death," in the midst of the buoyancy and hey-day of life—to bid farewell to this beautiful green earth, in the spring time of nature and of human existence; and it is a mournful duty to chronicle the early departure of such, for whom we have had bright hopes of a long and useful career on earth. Yet when death has come to to them, not as an inexorable enemy, but as a friend, to transplant them to a brighter world, where the spring flowers never fade, and the inhabitant never weakens, nor grows old, the duty of recording the event, is divested of its sadness, and the melancholy task becomes a grateful pleasure.

It is not overrating the character of the subject of this memoir, to say, that of all our youth, he was one of the most worthy and best beloved—one of those best calculated for usefulness, had he lived; one best prepared for the change he has met. The descendant of a line of pious ancestry (from his illustrious forefather Martin Luther of whom he was a lineal decendent in the ninth generation) the promises of God to the children of the righteous, seemed verified in him. He had early sought his fathers' God, and had connected himself with the church of his ancestors, and although he was suddenly cut down, and but a week intervened between the time of robust health and death, he was enabled to rely on his covenant God and SAVIOUR with unfaltering trust, and met his fate in fearless confidence.

Life was pleasant to him, for he had the qualities of heart necessary for its enjoyment; his was a cheerful, happy, genial and loving disposition; but doubtless for him "to be with CHRIST is far better,"

Well may his sorrowing friends, take comfort in the thought, that while theirs is a great loss, his is a greater gain—that while they are mourning here, he is rejoicing in that clime—

"Where saints of all ages in harmony meet,
Their Saviour and brethren transported to greet;
While the anthems of pleasure unceasingly roll,
And the smile of the Lord is the feast of the soul."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

WONDERFUL, BUT TRUE.

A few days since, Mr. James H. Beadle, of Huntsville, Alabama called on us and gave us permission to publish for the benefit of suffering humanity, the astonishing cure which had been effected in the case of his wife by the use of Dr. Hance's Vegetable Epileptic Pills. He informed us, that at the time his wife commenced using the medicine, her system was so entirely prostrated, by the number of spasms she had undergone, as to reduce her weight to 100 lbs. Since she has been taking the pills, she has entirely got over the spasms and has gained in weight and bodily health. She now weighs at least 200 lbs., and declares she is in better enjoyment of health than ever before in her life. Mr. Beadle also related the case of Mr. Harrison Lightfoot of the same town, who has been entirely cured of the worst form of Epilepsy by these same pills. Mr. Lightfoot's case was so bad that he never passed a week without having an attack, often falling down in the street. He has not had an attack for more than a year. Mr. Beadle thinks that if the pills ever fail in curing a case, it is for the want of a proper perseverance on the part of the person in taking them as he feels assured from observation in the case of his wife, that if they are taken for a sufficient length of time, they will cure any case. Sent to any part of the country by mail, on the receipt of a remittance. Address SETH S. HANCE, 108 Baltimore st., Baltimore, Md. Price, one box, $3; two, $5; twelve, $21.

WORMS! WORMS!

☞Various theories have been started relative to the origin of intestinal worms, and yet the question is still a vexed one among medical authorities. Of one fact, however, all are informed, and in which all agree—the fatal nature of the influence they exert on children. At this season of the year, the attacks of worms are most frequent as well as most dangerous. We take great pleasure in directing the attention of parents to the Vermifuge of Dr. M'Lane, prepared by Fleming Bros. Pittsburg. It is one of the most extraordinary medicines ever introduced to the public, and has never failed of success when tried.

☞Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge, manufactured by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores.—None genuine without the signature of FLEMING BROS.

THE GREAT DRAWBACK

To persons emigrating to the extreme south and western country, is the fear they have of the Fever and Ague—the most direful of all diseases. Every day we hear of persons attacked by the disease and made helpless in a short time, without any means of affording relief. In view of the great demand for a remedy Dr. Hostetter has presented his celebrated 'Bitters' whose curative powers for all diseases of the stomach have been universally acknowledged. The "Bitters," prepared after a long experience and deep study, have received the encomiums of the most eminent physicians, as well as all classes, from every part of our country. To those who doubt their many virtues, all we can say is to try them and judge for themselves respectively.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the Trade, and more especially the Physicians of the country, to two of the most popular remedies now before the public. We refer to

Dr. Chas. M'Lane's Celebrated
Vermifuge and Liver Pills.

We do not recommend them as universal Cure-alls, but simply for what they are reported, viz.:

THE VERMIFUGE,

For expelling Worms from the human system. It has also been administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals subject to Worms.

THE LIVER PILLS,

For the cure of LIVER COMPLAINTS, all BILIOUS DERANGEMENTS, SICK HEAD-ACHE, &c. In cases of

FEVER AND AGUE,

preparatory to or after taking Quinine, they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

As specifics for the above mentioned diseases, they are Unrivaled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

Their unprecedented popularity has induced the proprietors,

FLEMING BROTHERS,
PITTSBURGH, PA.

to dispose of their Drug business, in which they have been successfully engaged for the last Twenty Years, and they will now give their undivided time and attention to their manufacture. And being determined that Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills shall continue to occupy the high position they now hold among the great remedies of the day, they will continue to spare neither time nor expense in procuring the Best and Purest material, and compound them in the most thorough manner. Address all orders to

FLEMING BROS. Pittsburgh, Pa.

P.S. Dealers and Physicians ordering from others than Fleming Bros., will do well to write their orders distinctly, and state that Dr. M'Lane's, prepared by Fleming Bros. Pittsburgh, Pa. To those wishing to give them a trial, we will forward per mail, post paid, to any part of the United States, one box of Pills for twelve three-cent postage stamps, or one vial of Vermifuge for fourteen three-cent stamps. All orders from Canada must be accompanied by twenty cents extra.

For sale at the Drug Stores of Drs. Reamer & Harry, Bedford, and all other Druggists in the county

A. J. SANSOM,
Brigade Inspector's Office, } Brigade Inspector
Bedford, Pa., April 16, '60. } 1st Brigade, 16 Division

NOTICE TO COMMANDING OFFICERS OF COMPANIES of the 1st Brigade, 16th Division of the Penn'a Volunteers.

The attention of Commanding Officers of Companies is directed to section third, article third, of the Militia Laws of Pennsylvania, the provisions of which have never been complied with and which are as follows:—

"The commanding officer of each and every company of uniformed militia within this Commonwealth, shall, on or within five days after the first Monday in May, in each year, deliver or cause to be delivered to the Commissioners of the City or county in his brigade, and a duplicate copy to the Brigade Inspector of his Brigade, a roll, alphabetically arranged, of the names and residences of all the Officers, non-Commissioned Officers and Privates of his company, which roll shall be certified by him, upon honor, to include only the names of persons fully equipped according to the laws of the United States and of this State, and ready for service in his company; and also to report a list in duplicate, similarly arranged, of persons who have for the current year, contributed to the funds of an uniformed and organized company the sum of fifty cents, as an equivalent for military service, which list shall have annexed to it, an affidavit signed by the officers of the company, and setting forth that the said sum has been actually paid to the funds of said company by or for each and every person named therein, for the current year, which will exempt such persons from paying the same to the collector.

A. J. SANSOM,
April 27, '60 Brigade Inspector.

ATTENTION, RIFLEMEN!

YOU are hereby ordered to parade for inspection at the Court House, in Bedford on SATURDAY, the 26th day of MAY next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., with arms and accoutrements in good order.

By order of the Captain,
G. W. STIFFLER,

RAIL ROAD NOTICE.

The subscribers to the capital stock of the Bedford Rail Road Company are notified to pay to the Treasurer, in Bedford, the 10th instalment on each share of Stock, subscribed by them, on or before the 22d day of May, inst. By order of the Board,

JNO. P. REED,
May 4, 1860. Treasurer.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

IT is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Diarrhœa, dysentery, Colera, Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal, as they, when contracted by new settlers, or for flux, so generally prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by regulated by a brief use of this preparation. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, using directions on the bottle. For this disease per physician will recommend Bitters of some kind then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

FEVER AND AGUE.—This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

☞Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

HEALTH AND ITS PLEASURES, OR DISEASE WITH ITS AGONIES: CHOOSE BETWEEN THEM!

Holloway's Pills.

Nervous Disorders.

What is more fearful than a breaking down of the nervous system? To be excitable or nervous in a small degree is most distressing, for where can a remedy be found? There is one:—drink but little wine, beer, or spirits, or far better none; take no coffee—weak tea being preferable; get all the fresh air you can; take three or four Pills every night; eat plenty of solids, avoiding the use of slops; and if these plain rules are followed, you will be happy any nerves.

Mothers and Daughters,

If there is one thing more than another for which these Pills are so famous it is their purifying properties, especially their power of cleansing the blood from all impurities, and removing dangerous and suspended secretions. Universally adopted as the one grand remedy for female complaints, they never fail, never weaken the system, and always bring about what is required.

Sick Headaches and Want of Appetite,

these feelings which so sadden us, most frequently arise from annoyances or trouble, from obstruction, or from eating and drinking what is unfurnation, or from eating and drinking what ach. Thus, thus disordering the liver and stomach to be well organs must be regulated if you wish printed instruc Pills, if taken according to the action to both he, will quickly restore a healthy a natural consequend stomach, whence follow as head. In the East as good appetite and a clear other medicine is ever Vest Indies scarcely any or these disorders.

In all diseases affecting Kidneys, they secrete too much or too lit gans, whether ther they be afflicted with stone or ter; or whe- aches and pains settled in the loins or with ding to the printed directions, and the regions should be well rubbed into the small of the ecord bed time. This treatment will give almost diate relief when all other means have failed.

For Stomachs Out of Order.

No medicine will so effectually improve the tone of the stomach as these Pills; they remove all acidity, occasioned either by intemperance or improper diet. They reach the liver and reduce it to a healthy action; they are wonderfully efficacious in cases of spasms—in fact they never fail in curing all disorders of the liver and Stomach.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases.

Ague,	Inflammation,
Asthma	Jaundice,
Bilious Complaints,	Liver Complaints,
Blotches on the Skin	Lumbago,

BEDFORD CLASSICAL INSTITUTE.

REV. JOHN LYON, T. LYTTLETON LYON, A. M., } PRINCIPALS.

THE Summer session of this institution will open on Friday, the 4th day of May 1860.

It is the design of the Principals, to make this Academy, in all respects, a first class Institution, for the thorough instruction of youth of both sexes, and to prepare them for any profession or position in life.

The high moral and scientific tone of the school is well known to this community, and a strict discipline will be enforced.

A few boys, (the number is limited to ten,) will be received into the family of the Principals, as boarders.

The beauty of the scenery and the salubrity of the climate render Bedford a most desirable location for such a school.

Persons from abroad, visiting at the Springs, can be near their children during the summer.

It is desirable that pupils should enter at the commencement of the session, and no pupil will be received for less than one quarter.

TERMS. { $200 per year, including boarding, washing, fuel, light, and Tuition in all the branches.

On the Nature, Treatment and Radical Cure of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, Nervousness and Involuntary Emissions, Impotency and Mental and Physical Incapacity.

BY ROB. J. CULVERWELL, M. D., Author of "The Green Book," &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of self-abuse may be effectually removed without Medicine and without dangerous Surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

BY virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of Bedford county, the subscriber will expose to sale, by public outcry, on the premises, on Friday, the 20th day of April, 1860, the following real estate, late the property of John Roudebush, deceased, viz: A tract of land containing about thirty one acres, with about an acre and a half cleared and under fence, with a good spring of water upon it, situate in Union Township in said county, adjoining the mansion place of said decedent and lands of Thomas Lingenfelter.

Sale to commence at one o'clock, P. M. of said day. Terms—One third of the purchase money at the confirmation of the sale—one third on the first day of October, 1860, and the remaining third on the first day of April 1861, the purchaser to give a judgment bond for the two payments. Immediate possession of the property will be given.

GEORGE M. HOLSINGER,
Adm'r of J. Roudebush, dec'd.

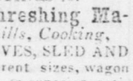
SAVE YOUR MONEY!

THE UNDERSIGNED would respectfully inform the travelling public, that he has established a tri-weekly line of stages between Bedford and Latrobe. The route is that of the old Philadelphia Turnpike, leading from Philadelphia to Pittsburg, being one of the best coach roads in the Union.

Passengers will REACH



trains of cars for Pittsburg as early as by going to Hollidaysburg or Johnstown. The fare to Pittsburg on this route is Four Dollars and Twenty Cents being

than THREE DOLLARS CHEAPER

Coaches leave the route from Bedford to that point every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from Bedford House, Bedford, every morning at 6½ o'clock, and the Depot at Latrobe every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday morning, after the arrival of the mail train from Pittsburg.

Bedford Hotel.
AND GENERAL STAGE OFFICE.

The subscriber respectfully begs leave to announce to his old friends and the public generally, that he has leased the Bedford Hotel, a present in the occupancy of Col. Adam Barnhart, and will take possession on the 1st day of April next. It is not his design to make many professions as to what he will do, but he pledges his word that his most energetic efforts will be employed to render comfortable all who give him a call. The House will be handsomely fitted up, and none but careful and attentive servants will be engaged. Persons visiting the Bedford Springs, as well as those attending Court, and the travelling community generally, are respectfully invited to give him a call and judge for themselves.

☞Boarders taken by the week, month, or year, on favorable terms.

☞Ample and comfortable stabling is attached to this Hotel, which will always be attended by a careful hostler. Also, a safe and convenient carriage house.

☞All the STAGES stop at this Hotel.
